

Ko-Yung TUNG

Lecturer on Law

Harvard Law School

ktung@law.harvard.edu

Ko-Yung Tung is an eminent international lawyer and scholar and a global business and strategy advisor. His fields of expertise include foreign investment, international business and corporate governance. Currently he is Lecturer at Law at Harvard Law School where he teaches courses on Law and Economic Development and on International Investment Arbitration. Previously, he taught at Yale Law School for many years.

Prof. Tung served as the Senior Vice President and General Counsel of the World Bank and as Secretary General of the International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). In private practice, he was a senior partner of O'Melveny & Myers and Senior Counsellor at Morrison & Foerster.

Mr. Tung currently serves or has served as a director or advisor of corporate boards and advisory councils, including Eisai Co., Ltd. (a Japanese pharma), Hawaiian Airlines, Kajima Corporation, Sunstar Inc., and affiliates of Metropolitan Life and USAA.

Mr. Tung has held a number of high-level appointments, including as a member of the U.S. Presidential Commission on United States Pacific Trade and Investment Policy, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the East-West Center, and The Trilateral Commission. He currently serves as a board member of non-governmental organizations and academic centers, including Global Health Innovative Technology Fund (funded by the Government of Japan and the Gates Foundation), The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Foundation, Human Rights Watch-Asia, Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, U.S.-China Education Fund, and Chinese Business Lawyers Association. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the American Society of International Law, International Bar Association and the Bar of the City of New York, the Asia Society, and the Japan Society.

Mr. Tung was born in Beijing, China, and raised in Tokyo, Japan. He received his education at Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts, Harvard College (physics, magna cum laude, 1970), Harvard Law School (J.D., 1973), and University of Tokyo, Faculty of Law (research fellow 1971-72).

August 2020